St Catherine's British School (the School) is fully committed to compliance with the requirements regulation GDPR 2016/679/EE*. The School will therefore follow procedures that aim to ensure that all employees, contractors, agents, consultants, partners or other members of the School who have access to any personal data held by or on behalf of the School, are fully aware of and abide by their duties and responsibilities. For the purposes of this Privacy Policy, the School is the "data controller" of personal data about pupils, their parents and/or guardians and members of staff.

2. Statement of Policy

In order to operate safely and efficiently, the School has to collect and use personal data about people with whom it works (data subjects). This may include families of pupils, pupils themselves, members of the public, current, past and prospective employees, clients and customers, and suppliers. This personal data must be handled and dealt with properly, however it is collected, recorded and used, and whether it be held on paper or electronically, regardless of media. Processing may include obtaining, recording, holding, disclosing, destroying or otherwise using personal data. In this policy any reference to pupils includes current, past or prospective pupils.

The School regards the lawful and fair treatment of personal data as very important to its successful operations and to maintaining confidence between the School, its pupils, their parents or guardians, staff and those with whom it carries out business.

3. The Principles

The School shall, as far as is reasonably practicable, comply with the six data protection principles contained within the GDPR. Personal data shall be:

- 1) processed lawfully, fairly and in a transparent manner
- 2) obtained for specified purposes and only processed in accordance with those purposes
- 3) adequate, relevant and not excessive
- 4) accurate and up-to-date
- 5) not kept for longer than necessary
- 6) processed with integrity and confidentiality

4. Personal Data

Personal data covers both facts and opinions about a living individual who can be identified from that data (or from that data and other information in the School's possession). It includes information necessary for employment such as the employee's name and address and details for payment of salary. It may also include information about the employee's health and professional development.

The School may process a wide range of personal data of pupils, their parents or guardians as part of its operations. This personal data may include (but is not limited to) names and addresses, dates of birth, bank details, academic, disciplinary, admissions and attendance records, photographs, references, school reports, examination scripts and marks.

5. Processing of Personal Data

Consent may be required for the processing of personal data unless the processing is necessary for the School to undertake its obligations to public authorities, pupils, their parents or guardians, or staff or unless the processing is necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims or whenever courts are acting in their judicial capacity.

Any information which falls under the definition of personal data, and is not otherwise exempt, will remain confidential and will only be disclosed to third parties with the consent of the appropriate individual or under the terms of this policy. This is the case regardless of how the information is held on computer or paper, it also includes personal data stored in an email, on a tablet or on a smartphone.

The School does have some CCTV cameras, however, they are not used inside the School, nor do they have a sound facility. They are only directed off-site with the purpose of protecting of the perimeter.

6. Sensitive Personal Data

The School may sometimes learn of and be required to process sensitive personal data regarding a member of staff, a pupil, their parents or guardians. Where sensitive personal data is known by the School, the need to process this data will be explained to the data subject and explicit consent of the data subject or appropriate representative will be required. There will only be exceptions to the rule when it is in the best interest of safeguarding a pupil.

Under GDPR legislation the areas of sensitive personal data are:

- racial or ethnic origin
- political opinions
- religious or philosophical beliefs
- trade union membership
- genetic data and biometric data
- health
- sex life or sexual orientation

The School will:

- observe in full conditions regarding the fair collection and use of personal data

- take appropriate technical and organisational security measures to safeguard personal data
- ensure that personal data is not transferred abroad without suitable safeguards

Personal data must be processed in line with data subjects' rights. Data subjects have a right to:

- request access to data about them held by the School (see paragraph 9 of this policy below)
- the right to prevent processing in certain circumstances such as for direct marketing purposes or where the processing is likely to cause damage or distress to themselves or anyone else

Data subjects have a right of access to personal data about themselves held by the School. Any individuals wishing to access their personal data should put their request in writing to the Data Protection Officer.

The School will endeavour to respond to any such written requests as soon as is reasonably practicable and this will always be within one month.

A data subject can assist the School in responding to a data subject access request by specifying:

- the format of personal information being requested (e.g. hard copy documents or electronic communications)
- what the personal information relates to (e.g. education, pastoral care etc.)

- the date or date range of when the personal information was created

The rights belong to the individual(s) to whom the data relates. The School will, however, in most cases rely on parental consent (or the consent of a guardian) to process data relating to pupils unless, given the nature of the processing in question, and the pupil's age and understanding, it is unreasonable in all the circumstances to rely on the parent's (or guardian's) consent. The School will grant the pupil direct access to their personal data if in the School's reasonable belief the pupil understands the nature of the request. As a general guide, a child aged 15 or older is expected to be mature enough to understand the request they are making.

Where a pupil raises a concern confidentially with a member of staff and expressly withholds their agreement to their personal data being disclosed to their parents or guardian, the School will maintain confidentiality unless it has reasonable grounds to believe that the pupil does not fully understand the consequences of withholding their consent, or where the School believes disclosure will be in the best interests of said pupil or to safeguard other pupils.

The School will treat as confidential any reference provided by the School for the purpose of the education, training or employment, or prospective education, training or employment of any pupil or employee.

The School acknowledges that an individual may have the right to access a reference relating to them received by the School. Such a reference will only be disclosed if such disclosure will not identify the source of the reference or where the referee has given their consent.

The data subject can also contact the School and request the right to be forgotten, requesting erasure of their personal data. Upon request being made, the School will inform you on the process.

10. Accuracy

The School will endeavour to ensure that all personal data held in relation to data subjects is accurate. Policy Date: March 2018

*The EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) replaces the Data Protection Directive 95/46/EC and was designed to harmonize data privacy laws across Europe, to protect and empower all EU citizens data privacy and to reshape the way organizations across the region approach data privacy. The regulation was adopted on 27 April 2016. It becomes enforceable from 25 May 2018 after a two-year transition period and, unlike a directive, it does not require national governments to pass any enabling legislation, and is thus directly binding and applicable.
